

Fast Track Your Research Impact

Date/Time: Friday 9 October 2020 (approx. 09.30-16.30)

Tea/coffee: We will be online, so please bring your own!

Joining details – these will be provided to you by email if you are selected to attend the workshop. A maximum number of 30 people will be able to attend.

Session 1: Fast track the impact of your research

- Thinking tools: What is impact?
- Practical tools for busy researchers
 - Prioritising which stakeholders and publics to engage with first
 - Planning for impact efficiently and effectively

Session 2: Writing the impact sections of a fellowship application or other grant proposal

- Small group discussion of example impact summaries and pathways to impact
- Presentation: secrets of success

Lunch

Session 3: The digital academic

Make your digital footprint work for you, to build visibility and credibility for your research online. Understand the power and the pitfalls of using social media professionally, and find out how to become influential and drive research impacts in this space

Session 4: Designing and facilitating meetings/workshops with partners and stakeholders

Designing and facilitating partnership meetings and workshops with stakeholders that are easy to facilitate, efficient and enjoyable.

Fast Track Impact
Training by researchers for researchers

Trainer

Prof Mark Reed is a recognized international expert in impact research with >150 publications that have been cited >15,000 times. He holds a Research England and N8 funded chair at Newcastle University, is research lead for an international charity and has won prizes for the impact of his research. He collaborates and publishes across the disciplinary spectrum, from the arts and humanities to natural sciences, and he reviews research for funders around the world. He has been commissioned to write reports and talk to international policy conferences by the United Nations. Mark provides training and advice to Universities, research funders, NGOs and policy-makers internationally, and regularly works with business. Find out more about his work at: www.profmarkreed.com or follow him on Twitter @profmarkreed

Fast Track Impact

Fast Track Impact is an international training company working in the Higher Education and research and innovation sectors. Our mission is to change the way busy researchers generate and share knowledge, so that their ideas can change the world, and they can get their thinking time back.

We run training for researchers from every discipline, from PhD students to Professors, from departmental away days to cross-institution training days. We have trained >4,000 researchers from >200 institutions in 55 countries and offer face-to-face trainings across the world from the UK to Australia.

Fast Track Impact was co-founded by Prof Mark Reed (Newcastle University) and Dr Ana Attlee (Project Maya Community Interest Company) in 2013, funded by the UK Government's Research Councils, and launched as an independent spin-out company in 2015, led by Prof Reed.

www.fasttrackimpact.com